OVERVIEW

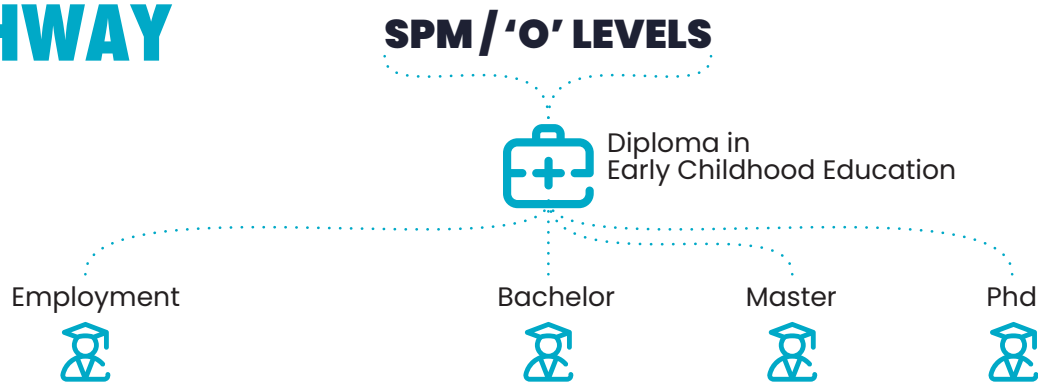

Children are our most valued treasure. Working with children is inspiring, challenging and rewarding. MAHSA University recognizes the importance of Early Childhood Education (ECE) and the difference it can make to the individual child, to families and prospective early childhood educators.

Educators in the field of ECE are those who perform the crucial task of laying the foundation of a child's development in the early years. This is fundamental to the development of a child and can significantly mould the later years of an individual's life. ECE enables children to develop to their full potential by promoting quality early child care and education through advocating for proper education, training and professionalism of childcare providers and preschool teachers.

ECE aims at the holistic development of a child's social, emotional, cognitive and physical needs in order to build a concrete foundation for lifelong learning and well-being. The ECE teacher strives to seek out each child's talents and find ways to teach to his/her weaknesses to create a well-rounded individual. The teacher observes each child to identify and support development and works with each child's parents to keep them informed of growth and development.

In line with this mission, a partnership with MAHSA international School KL (MISKL) has been established to create pathways which will enable students pursuing ECE to use the facilities and to intern at MISKL which offers nursery and pre-school programmes benchmarked against British Curriculum Standards.

CAREER PATH

Individuals who work in the ECE field, may work:

- directly with children from infancy to age six in groups or individually
- with families
- with other professionals
- in a range of settings including family child care, licensed early childhood centres, children's homes, and other settings.

ECE practitioners also work for a variety of employers such as:

- Headstart
- Parent Child Center or Family Center
- Private for-profit or not-for-profit early childhood program
- Public school system or private school
- Community agency or organization

ECE practitioners may also be self-employed entrepreneurs venturing into their own child-care centres.
